

Former Congressman
Lee Hamilton
April 20, 1931 -
February 3, 2026

We are saddened by the passing of Lee Hamilton. His leadership in the U.S. Congress helped create the opportunity to transform the former Indiana Army Ammunition Plant into one of the premier commerce centers in the Midwest. Congressman Hamilton was an early believer in the potential of River Ridge and his impact is lasting. The Commerce Center has become a thriving hub for business, investment, and opportunity, demonstrated by the jobs created, partnerships formed, and continued success for the region. Everyone at River Ridge extends our deepest gratitude. His legacy will live on through the foundation he helped build and the future he made possible.

Continued Momentum

The River Ridge Development Authority continued to lead the growth and stewardship of the River Ridge Commerce Center, one of Southern Indiana's most dynamic business and industrial destinations. Now home to nearly 80 companies, River Ridge expanded its footprint over the past year by attracting new employers and strengthening strategic partnerships across a range of industries. These efforts further advanced River Ridge's role as a driving force for regional investment, job creation, and long-term economic vitality.

20 Million Square Feet Under Roof

In 2025, the Commerce Center reached a significant milestone, surpassing 20 million square feet of development. This achievement reflected years of strategic planning, infrastructure investment, and strong partnerships that positioned the RRCC as a leading hub for industrial growth in Southern Indiana. The milestone highlighted sustained momentum and reinforced River Ridge's commitment to supporting high-quality jobs and long-term economic development in the region.
